TWO MORE BANKERS.

Schs. Colonial and Maud M. Story Arrive Today.

Latter Reports Fish Scarce on Newfoundland Shore.

Two of the salt bank fleet arrived Sunday, sch. Colonial, Capt. Patrick Shea, from the Cape North grounds with 160,000 pounds of salt cod, and sch. Maud M. Story, Capt. Frank Carter, from the Newfoundland coast, off Rose Blanche and vicinity, with 150,000 pounds of salt cod.

Capt. Carter, like Capt. Bonia, who arrived recently, reports fish scarce on the Newfoundland coast all the spring.

Capt. Shea reports seeing a large number of the salt bank fleet recently. Several got good fishing off Cape North, while others did not do much. The large fleet of bankers and shackers had broken up the fish there and most of them were now off Scatteri. One vessel had been as far as Anticosti and Bird Rocks, but found fish scarce. Some of the vessels, however, would go to Anticosti later for bait and to fish.

Capt. Joseph V. Cusick of sch. Independence II, which came in Saturday, reports that many of the salt bank fleet had done poorly and that some would make only one trip. The spurt at Cape North was over and the fleet would now look for another ground. Some of the fleet at Cape North got good fishing on two baitings.

Capt. Cusick believes that there will be some big second trips this fall as the vessels, being denied bait privileges at Newfoundland, will not waste from three to six weeks at Newfoundland ports waiting for bait to come to them, as they have several years, but will hustle and find bait elsewhere and thus have more days on the fishing grounds. He says the weather this spring was the guest down there that the bank fleet ever had and that they had plenty of chance to fish. Capt. Cusick has a fine fare, 270,000 pounds of salt cod.

SPIKE MACKEREL.

Twelve Barrels Taken Yesterday in Trap Near Newport.

Schs. Lucania and Faustina Where Constellation Got Fish.

Among the vessels which were in the fleet off Canso on Wednesday when the sch. Constellation got her last hauls were schs. Lucania and Faustina.

C. A. Esterbrook got about a dozen barrels of spike mackerel in his trap at Price's Neck, near Newport yesterday. The fish were shipped to New York.

INDEPENDENCE II. HOMF.

Brings First Big Salt Bank Fare of the Season.

Hails for 270,000 Pounds of Fine Salted Codfish.

Sch. Independence, 11., Capt. Joseph V. Cusick, arrived from a salt bank trip this noon with a splendid fare of 270,000 pounds of salted codfish. This is the first large salt bank cod fare of the season, and last year Capt. Cusick was also the first home with a good big fare. The craft got her last fish off Cape North along with the most of the salt bankers and the shack fleet and found good fishing there, as did several others of the fleet.

Capt. James McHenry of sch. Theodore Roosevelt, which arrived here yesterday afternoon with a halibut fare, states that he saw most of the salt bank fleet as he came from the northward. He reports that some half dozen or more of the bankers did very well on the last baitings off Cape North, while many of the vessels did not do anything extra. The bankers which fished over on the Newfoundland shore did very poorly, as he spoke some of them and they reported that fish were exceptionally scarce and the Newfoundland vessels themselves, according to their own home reports, had also found fish very scarce.

Big Trips.

Sch. American, Capt. Lemuel Spinney, arrived from the Cape North grounds Saturday afternoon with a fine fare of 100,000 pounds of fresh fish and 50,000 pounds of salt cod.

Sch. Monarch, Capt. Griffin, arrived from the Cape North grounds yesterday with a big fare, 110,000 pounds of fresh fish and 50,000 pounds of salt cod. Capt. Giffin, who has made a big year's work, will now take command of the new schooner which Capt. John Chisholm has had built for him and which is now being rigged and fitted.

Big Fares.

Sch. Dictator, Capt. Horace Wildes, arrived from the Cape North grounds this morning with a splendid trip of 140,000 pounds of fresh cod and 30,000 pounds of salt cod. This is a very fine fare and Capt. Wildes and his men will make a dandy stock and share.

Sch. Mildred Robinson, Capt. Leo Wells, arrived from Cape North grounds last evening with a good fare of 35,000 pounds of salt cod and 90,000 pounds of fresh cod.

June 13

Good Stocks.

Sch. Ella M. Goodwin, Capt. James Goodwin, weighed off 181,000 pounds of fresh and salt fish as the result of her recent shack trip to Cape North, making the splendid stock of $3900, the crew sharing $105.53. This is the second largest trip and stock and share of the season of the whale fleet of shackers. Whenever Capt. Goodwin comes in, there is sure to be something doing in the way of big trips and good returns for the same.

Good Stocks.

Sch. Illinois, Capt. John Lowry, stocked $3200 on her recent shack trip, the crew sharing $80. This is one of the best of the Cape North trips this season.

Sch. Orinoco, Capt. Clarence Malone, stocked $2165 on her recent shack trip, the crew sharing $67.

LATE NEWS OF SEINERS.

Twenty-six Sail Were at Louisburg, C. B. on Friday.

WIND NORTHEAST AND HEAVY.

List of Crafts and What Each
Had on Board.

A letter from our regular Louisburg, C. B., correspondent, dated Thursday, states that the first mackerel of the season there were taken last Monday, when the boats got as high as five and six barrels. Since then there have been no large catches there. The fish appear to be in bunches. Last Friday and Saturday were stormy and the fleet did not have their nets out. On Wednesday and Thursday the boats got as high as two barrels each, but some of them got none. The mackerel are very large and the 3 1-2 inch mesh nets are much too small to hold them.

A number of American vessels are lying some miles off the harbor and it was likely many of them would harbor there that night as the wind was brezing up to the eastward. The schs. Arthur Binney, Annie Greenlaw, Diana, Golden Rod and Veda M. McKown were in there Tuesday. The first two named vessels have fish. The Diana had 250 barrels and the Golden Rod 150 barrels.

The brig Ohio recently bought by Messrs. O'Toole & Co., and R. H. Cann of this port, has arrived here all right.

Salmon fishing is fairly good. Codfish are slow in coming. There is quite a lot of pollock about here and haddock have not yet struck in. Lobster fishing is good and the canneries are putting up a number of cases each.

Another letter from our same correspondent at Louisburg came this noon. It was dated Friday and states that on Thursday evening a strong northeast wind brought in quite a fleet of seiners and on Friday morning 26 of these fine looking crafts were at anchor in the harbor. Most all of them had some mackerel while some had fairly good catches. Of the fleet in port, sch. Ingomar was high line with 420 barrels of salt mackerel. The following is a list of the seiners in here Friday morning and their fares as reported at the Custom House:

Sch. Annie Greenlaw, 210 barrels.
Sch. Arthur Binney, 35 barrels.
Sch. Arcadia, not reported.
Sch. A. M. Nicholson, 200 barrels.
Sch. Arthur James, 375 barrels.
Sch. Electric Flash, 200 barrels.
Sch. Avalon, 280 barrels.
Sch. Golden Rod, 250 barrels.
Sch. Jennie B. Hodgdon, 165 barrels.
Sch. Priscilla Smith, 300 barrels.
Sch. Ingomar, 420 barrels.
Sch. Veda M. McKown, 300 barrels.
Sch. Grayling, 275 barrels.
Sch. Faustina, 190 barrels.
Sch. Norumbega, 280 barrels.
Sch. Monitor, 200 barrels.
Sch. Lucinda I. Lowell, 185 barrels.
Sch. S. F. Maker, 180 barrels.
Sch. Lottie G. Merchant, 250 barrels.
Sch. Emma W. Brown, not reported.
Sch. Kentucky, 250 barrels.
Sch. Mary F. Curtis, 230 barrels.
Sch. Helen G. Wells, 50 barrels.

Sch. Lucania, not reported.
Sch. Margie Smith, not reported.
Sch. Lena and Maud, 125 barrels.
The sch. Diana, which left this port on Wednesday morning with 250 barrels, struck a school off the harbor in the evening and made a good haul and the Grayling and Arthur Benney also made a haul off this point. The fishermen expect to make good hauls yet between here and Cape North if the weather gets fine, as most of the skippers are of opinion that they are yet ahead of the bulk of the mackerel. There have been no large catches made about here in nets up to this time.

The schooner Puritan, Capt. William J. Harding arrived from the fishing grounds yesterday evening with a full fare of fish. Capt. Harding put in here to pay off one of her crew who was shipped at North Sydney. The Puritan sailed for home yesterday.

Just at the time of writing two seining vessels are coming in the harbor. The wind today is from the northeast, and there is too much sea outside for the vessel to be able to fish. Nine of the boats from here got one to three nets today.

There was also quite a fleet of netters at Newport, the Mettaconnet having 1600. Actor 1200, Albert Willard, 1200, and the following from 200 to 400 each; Lizzie Hunt, Briganza, Active, Betsey Ross, Rattler Crescent, Jessie P. Barbara, Caswell, Fly, Venus, Beatrice Earle, Pearl, Success, Mildred Priscilla, Minerva, Gracie, Louis Warren and Alert.

A fleet of seiners harbored at Newport and Block Island during thick and rough weather off shore.

The vessels in port were schs. Natalie B. Nickerson, Salada, Maud S., James and Esther, Thomas J. Carroll, J. W. Bradley, Seaconnet, Annie Parker, Frank Butler, Victor, Mary E. Harty, and Marguerite Haskins.

THE WOMEN DO ALL THE BUSINESS.

The city of Cancale, France is known as the manless city. Its streets are busy, but the business is done by women. Ocean-going ships load in the port, and women do the loading. Women also act as police. The most famous oyster industry of France has here its parks, and women do the cultivating.

Cancale is situated on the channel coast with 16,000 inhabitants when they are all at home, highly celebrated for its oysters, but still more interesting by reason of its hardy femininity, that has learned to live independent of men during six months of the year. To make it more curious the girls of Cancale are at the same time known as the prettiest in Brittany and as the earliest to marry of the north and centre of France. Also Cancale has the greatest proportion of widows and the youngest of all France.

The men of Cancale are for the most part long-cruise deep-sea fishermen who cross the Atlantic to take the codfish in American waters from Iceland down. During between six and eight months of the year they are absent from their wives, mothers and sweethearts for the sake of bringing back lump sums ranging from $120 to $160 apiece, but there is always one ship that does not come back, and there are always men on each ship who do not come back.

MORE CAPE SHORE NEWS.

Sch. Natalie J. Nelson at Louisburg with 300 Barrels.

Schs. Constellation and Pinta
Make Grand Good Stocks.

Sch. Natalie J. Nelson was known to have got two big hauls off Sambro when the fleet first struck fish, and many thought she had sailed for home. Since then she had not been reported at any harbor or by any others of the fleet, until she turned up at Louisburg, C. B., on Friday, going in there for harbor with 300 barrels of salt mackerel on board. There was much speculation among the men of the vessels which have arrived home as to where she was, but this direct news of her arrival at Louisburg will dispel all doubts and fears.

A letter received here yesterday reports sch. Ralph L. Hall of this port at Canso, N. S., for barrels and salt, she having about 600 barrels of mackerel.

Late advices from Louisburg report sch. Priscilla Smith there with 400 barrels of salt mackerel.

Sch. Constellation, Capt. Thaddens Morgan, stocked $6423 27, the crew sharing $133.01. Capt. Morgan was high line out south up to Cape Shore time with a stock of $5600, so this will give him a stock of over $12,000 thus far this season which is certainly a splendid start for a big season's work. The Constellation is high line of the seining fleet at present.

The fare of salt mackerel of sch. Nellie Dixon sold to Potter & Waightington of Boston at $11 per bbl.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Bertha and Pearl sold to Slade Gorton & Co. and that of sch. Hattie A. Heckman to George Perkins & Son, both at $11 per barrel.

At New Bedford yesterday the sloop Magnolia had 600 fresh mackerel.

There are 838 barrels of fresh mackerel due at Boston today on the steamer Calvin Austin from St. John, N. B.

The Cape Shore salt mackerel go about 120 count to a barrel.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday afternoon:

Sloop Caswell, 400 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Lizzie Foster, 300 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Lafayette, 1000 fresh mackerel.
Sloop Golden Eagle, 100 fresh mackerel.
Sloop Maxwell, 600 fresh mackerel.
Steamer Dorcas, 1800 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Pinta, Capt. John F. Vautier, stocked $7700 clear of the market as the result of her southern seining trip, the crew sharing $192. This is fine work and puts Capt. Vautier right up among the leaders of the fleet.
In addition to the list of seiners at Louisburg, C. B., on Friday, as published exclusively in the TIMES of yesterday the following seiners were also there on that day.
Sch. Natalie J. Nelson, 300 barrels salt mackerel.
Sch. Corsair, 279 barrels salt mackerel.
Sch. Patrician, 300 barrels salt mackerel.
Sch. Lucania, 300 barrels salt mackerel.

Bank Cod Sales.

The big fare of sch. Independence II, sold to Slade Gorton & Co., and Sylvanus Smith & Co., and that of sch. Colonial to Cunningham & Thompson, both trips bringing the card prices, $3 62 1-2 per hundred weight for large cod and $3 37 1-2 for medium cod.

GUNNERY SPOILED FISHING.

Newport, R. I., June 15.—Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the north Atlantic squadron, has received orders from the navy department to discontinue the use of the waters around Woods Hole and No Man's Land as a place of target practice for the warships in this vicinity. Fishermen who frequented those waters claimed that the use of the big guns killed and drove away the fish.

LANESVILLE.

Good Fishing.

The wharves and piers at Lanesville are lined each evening with amateur fishermen. Others secure dories and try their luck outside the harbor. Last evening some good catches were made. Several Finnish boys in one dory secured a great catch of Old England hake, and they brought in an enormous monk-fish for a curiosity.
